6th International Symposium on Phenomenological Research in Education
Humboldt-University of Berlin
15th –17th September 2022

Due to an increased number of applications, we decided to start the 6th International Symposium on Phenomenological Research in Education with a preconference exclusively for early-stage researchers. The preconference will consist of a poster session followed by the participation in one of three workshops. There are no additional costs for the participation in the preconference.

1. Poster Session: 9:00 – 10:00 Uhr

Call for Posters

Early-stage researchers are cordially invited to present and discuss a poster of their current work related to phenomenological research.

We will apply to the German Research Foundation (DFG) for a grant to cover travel and accommodation costs.

2. Workshops on Phenomenological Research in Education: 10:00 – 13:00 Uhr

(only one workshop can be attended)

In the workshops, early-stage researchers will have the opportunity to present and discuss their central research questions and research data.

- Workshop 1:
Malte Brinkmann: Phenomenology in Education Studies: constitution of research objects (Gegenstandskonstitution), philosophy of science, methodology
- Workshop 2:
Severin Sales Rödel: Phenomenological Videography
- Workshop 3:
Johannes Türistig und Martin Weber-Spanknebel: Phenomenological Description

The preconference will be held in English only.

Please submit an abstract for your contribution to the poster session in English by 30.04.

Please also register yourself to participate in the workshops, specifying the workshop you would like to attend, by 30.4. If you would like to present material (research data) in the workshop, please notify us accordingly. We will then clarify with you whether or to what extent this is possible.

You will be notified by 31.5. at the latest.

Please send your abstracts including the choice of the workshop you want to attend to:

Prof. Dr. Malte Brinkmann
Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin
Allgemeine Erziehungswissenschaft
Unter den Linden 6, 10099 Berlin
